

How to begin

Before you submit your claim for processing, it would be helpful to locate the annuity contract, account statements, confirmation notices or correspondence about the contract. These items can help identify the type of annuity contract owned by the deceased and which distribution options may be available to you. If you cannot easily find these items, just call us and we will provide the information from our records.

Your distribution options can vary depending on the type of contract (for example, Non-Qualified or Traditional IRA) and your relationship to the deceased. Your financial professional or the retirement plan administrator may be able to provide some needed information about the contract. Or, you can simply call us at 1-800-628-6673 for answers to your questions about the contract and your distribution options.

Please note: Your distribution election, and its tax consequences, cannot be changed once a payment has been made to you. We strongly recommend that you consult with a tax advisor before you request a distribution.

Completing the forms

Each beneficiary claiming benefits must complete this Claim to Annuity Benefits form and any additional forms needed for the distribution option(s) selected. Plus, special kinds of beneficiaries (i.e., a minor, trust, estate, partnership, corporation or non-U.S. citizen) are required to provide additional information. A special beneficiary should call us at 1-800-628-6673 for information and any additional forms needed.

Claim to Annuity Benefits. Each beneficiary must complete this form, in addition to one (or more) of the following forms to elect a distribution option. Exclusions may apply, so please refer to each form for details.

Beneficiary Continuation Option (BCO). This option is only available for beneficiaries of these contract types: Traditional IRA, Roth IRA, SEP, SIMPLE IRA, TSA, TSA Vantage and EQUI-VEST Strategies. It continues the annuity contract and may allow you to choose how to take your benefits.

Trustee Certification Form. If an eligible trust elects the Beneficiary Continuation Option, it will be necessary to complete this form, in addition to Beneficiary Continuation Option (BCO) Form. Only available to Traditional IRA, QP IRA, SEP IRA, SIMPLE IRA, Roth IRA, TSA and TSA Vantage.

NQ Beneficiary Continuation Option (NQ BCO). This option is only available for beneficiaries of EQUI-VEST (Series 400, 800 and 801) and EQUI-VEST Express if it is approved within the state where the contract was originally issued. NQ BCO is only available at the death of the contract owner.

Periodic Payment Plan Option. This option is available for any beneficiary and can be used in combination with any of the preceding options, including lump sum distributions. It involves the purchase of a fixed or variable deferred annuity with all or a portion of your benefits. (You can ask your AXA Financial Professional for a personalized quote.)

Successor Owner/Annuitant (SOA) Option. This option is only available if the spouse is the sole beneficiary of certain contract types (NQ, Traditional IRA, QP IRA, Roth IRA, SEP/SARSEP and Simple IRA) and the annuitant and the owner are the same. It continues the annuity contract and generally lets you decide when you want to take funds from the contract. The spouse becomes the successor owner/annuitant under the existing contract.

Lump Sum Distribution Form. This option is available for any beneficiary. In most cases, benefits will automatically be deposited into an AXA Equitable Access Account on your behalf. Your distribution will be taxable to you in the year paid.

Spousal Benefit Rollover. Spousal beneficiaries of Traditional IRA contracts can roll over benefits to a Traditional IRA in their name. Please speak to your financial professional for more information if a new contract is requested as additional forms may be required.
