

Knowing Your EQUI-VESTSM Benefit Payment Options

Your Options

Every individual has unique needs and goals. At AXA Equitable, we offer a variety of options to help you reach your goals.

You may purchase a Periodic Annuity Payment Plan, which provides a continuous stream of income. You may be able to establish an AXA Equitable Access Account or select a check for full payment.

- Some beneficiaries may continue the contract or request a rollover.
- Certain options could be combined to meet your needs. For example, some beneficiaries could request a partial distribution of benefits, and use the remaining benefits to purchase a Periodic Annuity Payment Plan.

To help you understand your choices, please see the charts on the following pages that list your options.

Any Questions?

If you have any questions that this guide cannot answer, or you need help in filling out the forms, please call us at 1-800-628-6673, Monday through Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. EST, and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, or call your financial professional.

If the Owner and Annuitant on the Contract Are Different

If you are submitting this claim as the result of the death of the owner while the annuitant is alive, the contract does not provide a death benefit. However, tax rules require that when the owner dies, the contract value must generally be distributed within five years. The contract provides that withdrawals or surrenders because of the owner death rules are subject to any applicable withdrawal charges. If you are the spouse of the deceased, no distributions are required so long as both you and the annuitant are alive.

If you are submitting this claim as a result of the death of the annuitant, the death benefit amount described below will either be paid out to you in a lump sum or used as the amount applied to a Periodic Annuity Payment Plan or other option you elect. If you are a surviving spouse choosing to continue the contract, the amount described below will become your beginning Account Value.

Death Benefit Amount

The death benefit you will receive will be equal to the greater of the Account Value or the applicable Minimum Death Benefit under the contract.

- The Account Value amount is determined as of the date we receive satisfactory proof of the annuitant's death and any required instructions for the method of payment, and information and forms necessary to effect payment.
- The amount of the elected Minimum Death Benefit is determined as of the date of the annuitant's death and adjusted for any subsequent withdrawals.
- If there is a loan outstanding under the contract, the death benefit amount will be less a deduction for any outstanding loan balance (including interest accrued, but not paid) on the date that the death benefit payment is made.

Important Note

Not all options are available to all beneficiaries.

Your ability to select a benefit payment option depends on a number of factors, for example:

- The type of contract (Non-Qualified [NQ] or some type of tax-qualified).
- Your beneficiary status (spousal beneficiary or non-spousal; adult or minor; individual or non-natural person, such as a trust, for example).
- Whether the option is available in the state of contract issue.

For example, certain payees, such as trusts, estates and minors, may not be paid through an AXA Equitable Access Account.² We recommend that you check with your financial professional or call us to determine your eligibility for any option. You should also check with a tax advisor to determine the tax implications of an option before choosing it.

Please see the last page for important additional information.

Important Information

- Beneficiaries should complete the Claim to Annuity Benefits form, indicating their choice of payment option.
- You should allow 12 to 15 business days to receive a response from us. Occasionally, we may have additional requirements, and it will take extra time for us to process your claim.
- All beneficiaries must make a timely election. Until you decide on the form of payment and we receive your request, your death benefit proceeds will continue to be invested in the investment options the deceased elected, and may be subject to market volatility.
